OTHER ACTIVITIES

1. Three courses have been completed within this past week, USSR - Country Survey, CPO&O (FDD), and ACO. The USSR course, SIC's second running, seems to have shaken down quite successfully. We have continued to request participation by ORR, OSI, SR, and LAS in specialized substantive areas, but the ratio of SIC staff to outside lecturers was improved from about 1 to 1 in the first course to 10 - 7 in this one, I feel that, if there continues to be a requirement for this basic coverage, we now have a most satisfactory product. supervised the final five weeks during absence at OFC.

The course put on at FDD was essentially the same as our normal CPO&O, and the response has been good. I suspect that, since we were able to accommodate only one - half of the applicants, we will be requested to present a similar program next fall.

felt that this ACO was the most successful so far. The group was composed exclusively of knowledgeable professionals in the operations field, many of whom had much to contribute even in the specialized anti-Communist area. He also felt that, since most of them knew one another as well as the guest speakers, any possible security inhibitions were almost completely eliminated and the discussions centered upon current operations and problems. We attempted to get Inspector Sullivan from the FBI to speak on the Bureau's operations, but he was unavailable. We intend to try again for the September running.

QPS || the additional three and one half hours of coverage which he has been providing. This will raise the number of SIC participants to five, covering approximately ten hours.

3. I have suggested to [] that SIC prepare a list of the problems raised about the United States and the nature of the attacks directed against the U.S. and the West by international Communism which SIC will cover in its JOT program. I believe that this will be quite useful in his preparation of the following week in that it would provide continuity and focus. We hope to have this completed early next week.
